By WALTER M. BARRETT

The influx of travelers from the other states and different parts of the world will be great during the next two years, with the San Francisco World Fair in 1939 as the principal attraction. Will they go whizzing passed our doors only to stop and enjoy the attractions put up by surrounding towns, or are we going to make a combined effort to interest the visitors in OUR community instead of standing on the fringe and taking care of our share of the overflow? All the newcomers will not return to their former homes but will invest and live in new places most pleasing to them. We have all the natural advantages to interest the potential resident, but it is up to the business people and home owners of Truckee to see that the interest is not merely a passing one.

Have you done your share to aid the fish planting program?

As we become better acquainted here we realize the number of really talented persons there are who live in Truckee. That is not surprising in itself, but the fact that ability to do many things that add to enjoyment of living is hidden beneath a bushel when talent no greater is very much sought after and displayed to advantage in other communities, is surprising. We have neighbors versed in vocal and instrumental music, drawing, elocution, horticulture and others with histrionic ability and special hobbies, still others capable of teaching and directing. With community spirit and each one exerting his or her best efforts we could found a splendid cultural background for the adults as well as the younger people of the vicinity.

The Parent Teachers' benefit entertainment and dance will be held at Masonic hall tonight. It promises to be an enjoyable affair and worthy of patronage. The proceeds certainly go to a worthy cause.

Yanko Stepich, well-known local restaurant operator, received the sad news from Reno of the sudden death of his niece, Mrs. Gussie Pappas, 22, a bride of two months, and left on Tuesday to attend the funeral services held at Jackson.

The young woman was a victim of a heart attack and was rushed to a Reno hospital in an effort to restore her health, but she died an hour after arriving there. Mrs. Pappas was a native of Stockton but will be remembered here where she lived for nearly two years.

Besides her uncle, she is survived by her husband, William H. Pappas who operates the Golden Coffee Shop at Reno; her parents, and brothers, who live in Stockton, two sisters in Stockton and Portola and an aunt, Mrs. George Kapich of Reno.

DRIVE UNDER WAY HERE TO GET FUND FOR RAISING FISH

Less Than $300 Subscribed To Provide Trout Next Fall

COMMITTEE NOW BUSY Business Men Urged to Aid In Restocking Local Stream

Truckee businessmen and sportsmen this week are being asked to aid in raising a fund to be matched by a similar fund from the San Francisco Fly Casting Club to be used for feeding and raising trout to be planted in the Truckee river next fall.

To date the committee reports it has collected less than $300 for the fund. More fish will be raised this year than last and due to the fact that they will not be planted until later in the season when the river will be free of clams and other trout destroying water leaches, the expense will be greater than last year, it was pointed out.

The fly casting club provides for the rearing ponds, caretakers and feeding, but asks that Truckee share in the expense of buying the food and other incidentals.

Donner Highway Work Scheduled To Start Today

Nevada County Men Will Be Employed During Road Building

Nevada County men are to be employed on the Route U. S. 40 Donner Lake shore highway as far as it is practical and expedient, it was learned this week. The project was scheduled to be started today.

William T. Fairley, construction engineer for the Pacific States Construction company of San Francisco, successful bidder for building the new road, was in conference with Gerald Delaney, manager of the department of labor employment service at Grass Valley on Tuesday, concerning the employment of local men.

NEW EQUIPMENT IS TO BE INSTALLED IN LOCAL LAUNDRY

Al Fontana has returned from San Francisco where he purchased more than $2,000 worth of new equipment to be installed in the Fontana Laundry here, augmenting the already modern machinery plant.

The new equipment will include two of the latest type pressing machines for pressing clothes. A Monel metal two-speed washer will also be installed. This machine is adapted for washing woollens as well as ordinary fabrics.

TRAMP RESCUED AS FIRE THREATENS TO DESTROY BLANKET

Answering a summons to put out a fire reported above Mciver's Dairy at the west entrance of Truckee this week, W. C. Winslow and Garth Flint of the local branch of the forest service, probably rescued a hobo from an improvised bed which promised to become a pyre because of his negligence.

The unidentified man had previously built a fire on the sloping hill and put his blankets on a flat rock below. Ignited pine cones used for fuel had rolled down within a few inches of the covers where he was snugly slumbering. A light flashed in his face by the investigators, roused the embracer of Morpheus to a running jump and he was conducted from the grounds after the flames had been extinguished.

Famous Landmark in Flames

The skeleton of the famed Calneva Lodge is limned against night sky as flames eat out the heart of the building in a recent $250,000 fire. Situated on the California-Nevada line, the lodge setting was taken for the theme of the stage play, "Lightning," which later was made into a picture starring the late Will Rogers.

Lions See Films Of Telephone In Wednesday Meet

Speaker Asks Support For Relief Measure Vetoed By Governor

How the sound of a voice will travel a distance of 23,000 miles in a quarter of a second was explained to members of the Truckee Lions Club here Wednesday night through the medium of talking moving pictures shown by Thomas Grimshaw, official of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, who was the guest of Manager A. P. Leitch of the local office.

The two reels of pictures showed how communication is kept with the entire civilized world by telephone. The delicate, intricate mechanism employed was explained in detail.

Fred C. Tatton, manager of the Sacramento division of the State Chamber of Commerce, spoke briefly urging the club to wire the senator from this district to aid in overriding the governor's veto of A. B. 1107, designed to place the administration of relief in the hands of the county supervisors. No action was taken.

Other guests at the meeting were Coroner Bob Jefford and J. D. Luper of Grass Valley, Del Blevins of San Francisco, William Terry of Sacramento and Sarge Clark, local checking station clerk.

Truckee Forest Service Men Aided By Builders CCC Boys

A fire which for a time threatened destruction of new buildings at the Boca dam project, was brought under control Tuesday through the efforts of local forest service men, CCC boys and members of the crew at the scene of the fire.

The fire started from unknown cause and spread over eight acres, coming within a few feet of the new tool house erected by the Boca dam crew. The old Union ice house was burned and fire smoldered in the saw dust pile there all night.

Two trucks from the Truckee forest service station, manned by W. C. Winslow and Garth Flint, responded to the call put in by Elwood Stone, who reported the fire. Soon after the local men arrived, the fire was brought under control and Frank Cozzallo was left to guard against it breaking out again.

Three Fined For Violating Fish Laws In District

One Man Pay $50 for Fishing With Foreign Minnows In Donner Lake

Strict enforcement of the fish and game laws in this district is forecast in the action this week taken against L. C. Featsent, railroad employee of the Norden area, who was fined in the justice court of C. E. Smith for violating two provisions of the code.

Featsent was fined $25 for fishing in Donner Lake with live chub minnows caught in Crystal Lake on the other side of the summit. He was also fined $25 for illegal trapping of the minnows.

The charges were filed by Game Warden Earl Hiscoc of Nevada City, who arrested the accused violator Sunday.

The officer said that he was making every effort to prevent the planting of foreign fish in local lakes and streams in a campaign to protect the trout. Fishing with minnows taken from other waters than those where the fishing is to be done is in violation of the law, Hiscoc said. Illegal nets will also be watched and the owners arrested, he added.

Judge Smith sentenced Featsent to pay the $50 or spend 20 days in jail.

Two other nimrods were arrested by Warden Hiscoc and fined $25 each by Justice of the Peace Smith. Alton Erenich of San Pedro was apprehended for fishing without a license and Merle Burton, of Montana was arrested for fishing with a citizen's license when he was an out-of-state angler.

PLAN REBUILDING OF CAL-NEVA AFTER FIRE RAZES RESORT

Huge Loss Incurred as Fire Strikes Second Time At Lake Tahoe

VOLUNTEERS RESPOND

Historic Lake Tahoe Resort Destroyed by Fire Last Sunday

Preparations are already being made for rebuilding historic Cal-Neva Lodge at Lake Tahoe, razed in the second serious fire on the lake within a week. The $250,000 resort was demolished Sunday evening from undetermined causes.

Hastily summoned forest rangers, headed by H. I. Snider of Truckee and other volunteers kept the fire from spreading to other nearby resorts and the forest surrounding the picturesque spot.

The call for aid came to W. C. Winslow, dispatcher at the local forest service headquarters and rangers were quickly notified and augmented by scores of willing helpers turned their attention to saving surrounding property.

The fire was plainly visible from Truckee. Members of the Truckee fire department rushed additional equipment to the scene.

The building now contemplated to replace the ruined one will be on the same location, straddling the state line, with the huge boulder protruding through the floor of the main room.

James McKay and William Graham of Reno are the owners of the property. Only a small amount of insurance was carried.

The fire, observers said, started somewhere in the rear of the building and when attendants rushed to get small nearby hose, the blaze seemed to spread all at once and within a few minutes, the entire structure was ablaze.

It had been planned to open the resort within two weeks.

In the meantime work is progressing on rebuilding the dining room at Camp Richardson, which was demolished the preceding week. It will be ready for the summer trade within a short time.

YOUTH MARCHES FORTH

Already the vanguard is moving through graduation exercises, and during the coming few weeks the high schools and colleges will send great legions of youth marching out into the battle of life.

They will go with high hopes and high courage, these young men and women who are bidding farewell to the sequestered peace and carefree joyousness of school days. Naturally some disillusionment awaits them, some disciplining in the school of hard knocks. That merely tempers the steel.

But how much better their opportunities are this year! More jobs are open to them than at any time since 1929.

Problems galore, of course, as youth always has. Many of the youngsters will go into large business enterprises, there to start at the bottom. They will spend long hours in this "school", learning salesmanship, marketing, efficient business methods and procedure. Their incomes, while not large at first, will be adequate, steady and certain.

Others, having saved a little, will choose a less certain path, setting up enterprises of their own.

These problems of livelihood first. But what a multitude more there are! Problems of marriage, of a home, of future relationships—all to be tackled with youth's bustling energy and enthusiasm. What man has not wanted to turn back time and relive these years of his life?

FIFTY THOUSAND DOOMED

Fifty thousand men, women and children are doomed to die on the streets and highways of the nation during 1937.

This is the tragic conclusion being drawn from figures just released by the American Automobile Association. Through the first quarter of this year the slaughter was 28 per cent greater than in the same period of 1936, and if the pace keeps up the appalling prophecy will come true.

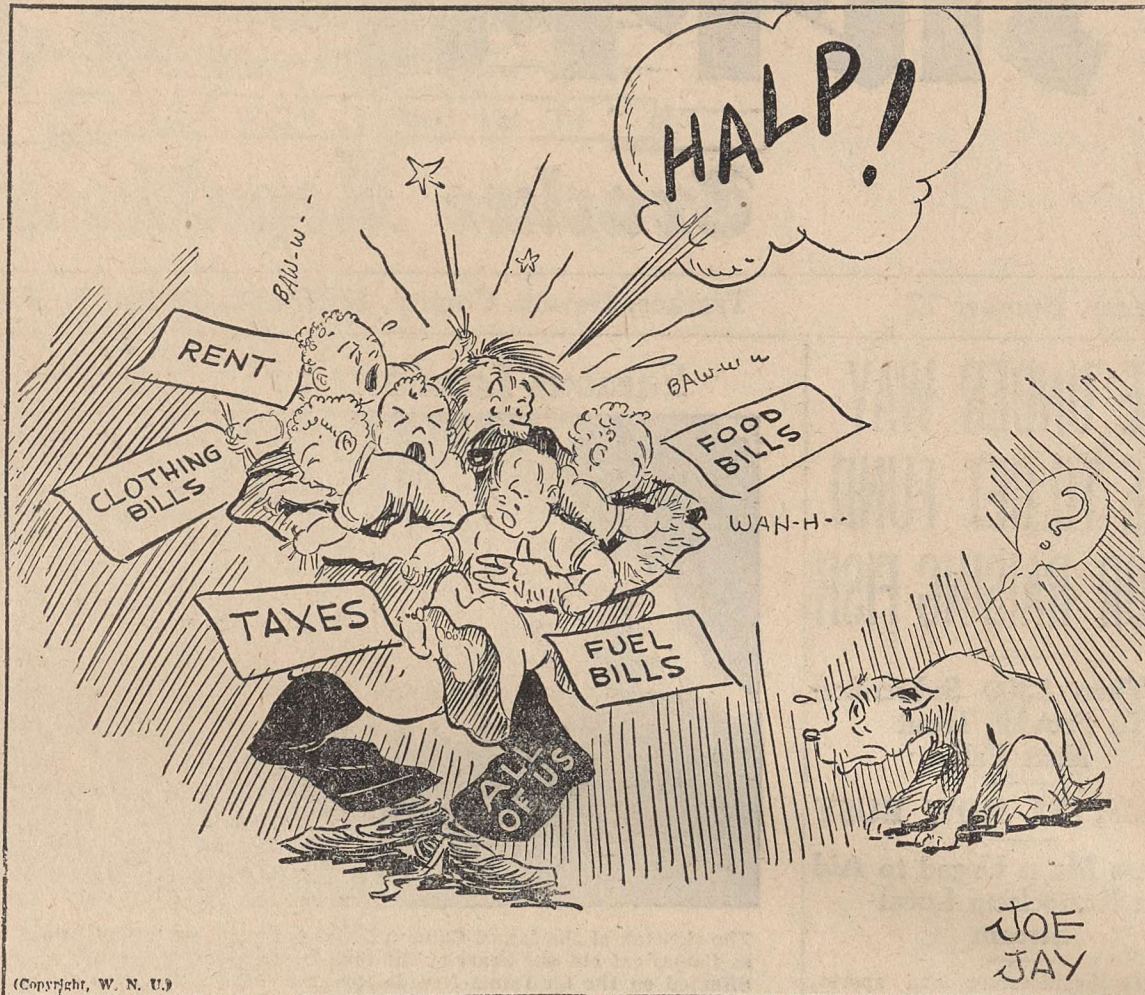

The death toll can be cut down. There is proof of this in the fact that it has been cut down on the railroads, simply by applying and enforcing safety regulations.

Since 1923, there has been a 70 per cent decrease in the number of train accidents, and a 53 per cent decrease in the frequency of casualties to passengers, until today a person is actually safer riding in a railway coach than he is in his own home. Yet in these same years the highways have become as hazardous, almost, as no-man's land on the battle front.

There would be no point in lamenting if some decree of the gods had ruled that fifty thousand deaths was the price America had to pay for having automobiles. That would be that, and we would have our choice of going back to the horse, or letting that many die.

But we can have the autos and safety too. We can have by enforcing traffic laws, by cracking down mightily on

This Week At The State Capitol

By Jack Welter
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, May 20.—(UP)—California legislators moved into the final two weeks of their 52nd session today with hope fading for enactment of major labor legislation and prospects of increased old age pensions definitely blasted.

None of three labor relations bills appeared to have more than a remote chance of passage, despite efforts at a last-minute conciliation of conflicting opinions.

The senate refused to draw Assemblyman Samuel W. Yorty's "Little Wagner act" from committee. Assemblymen retaliated by amending the entire Yorty bill into Senator Bradford S. Crittenden's labor relations board proposal. The action assured its defeat, observers believed.

Apparently the only measure with any prospects of passage was a new labor relations bill introduced by Senator Jerrold Seawell and providing for mediation of disputes after the fashion of the national railway labor act.

It was doubtful, however, whether this measure would have time to move very far through the legislature before adjournment, which both houses set for May 28.

A move for a $50 monthly old age pension and a 60-year eligibility, introduced by Assemblyman John Pelletier was killed before it got under way by the lower house. A measure retaining the $35 figure and reckless and drunken drivers, even putting them behind prison bars if necessary. With a death toll of fifty thousand looming, it is high time we decided we shall have safety, at any or all costs.

Dr. Eberhard von Stecherer, who visited San Francisco recently while on a world tour aboard the German liner Reliance. Dr. von Stecherer was appointed ambassador to Spain but when the Spanish civil war broke out he had no country to go to so went on a cruise pending outcome of the strife.

65 year age requirement won approval of the senate social security committee, however. This measure, sponsored by Assemblyman William Hornblower and 45 others, would liberalize the present pensions by permitting $15 monthly outside income and other concessions.

With the Olson tide watered oil bill awaiting before Governor Frank F. Merriam's action the assembly renewed the Huntington Beach tide land oil fight, passing the Welsh bill which also would permit direct drilling. In many other respects it resembles the Olson measure.

bills to appropriate $5,000,000 for a state exhibit at San Francisco's 1939 Golden Gate exposition and $1,500,000 for a Los Angeles fair in 1940, the governor signed a measure consolidating the state relief administration with the state department of social welfare. Relief therefore will be administered under this set-up in the future unless Merriam signs the "supervisors' bill" to transfer relief administration to the counties. Both chambers also approved proposals to make a separate board of equalization district of Los Angeles county, and the senate agreed board members' salaries should be increased from $4,000 to $5,000 annually.

The senate's only outstanding floor action was approval of a bill to legalize dog racing and permit pari-mutuel betting on the canines, and endorsement of a proposal to prevent diversion of gas taxes. A state bureau for control on veneral disease, financed by a $150,000 appropriation, would be established under a measure approved by the lower house, while another would provide $2,500,000 to conduct a bovine tuberculosis eradication drive. Other assembly action included: Approval of a bill to retire all state judges from superior benches upward at the age of 70, on half pay to be taken from a fund created by contributions of 2½ per cent from the jurists' salaries. SEAWELL EXPLAINS STAND

ON OPPOSING RAILROADING OF STATE BUDGET BILL

Dear Editor:
The Senate of California on the 29th passed the Governor's Budget, as it came from the Assembly, without any amendments and without any consideration of the same on the floor of the Senate. The press of California lists me as one of the three Senators voting against the Budget but in many instances failed to state my reasons for this action. I believe the people of my district are entitled to know my position and my reason for voting against the same. The Budget contains total expenditures of four hundred and thirty-eight millions of dollars. It has always been the practice for the Director of Finance to appear before the State Senate, sitting as a committee of the Whole, and explain the items contained in the Budget and the reasons for the increased appropriations of the reasons for decreasing existing expense items. By following this procedure, the Senate could study the Budget items intelligently and offer amendments to the same as desired, or necessary, at the time the expense item was under discussion. This procedure was not followed this session, although I vigorously opposed this method of railroading the Budget through the State Senate without proper consideration. The Assembly took sixty days to pass judgment upon the same, yet, the Senate of California passed the Budget without any explanation and only ten minutes consideration. I cannot subscribe myself to this method of legislating expenditures involving the sum of money contained in the State Budget. By voting against the Budget I registered my protest in opposition to this high-handed disregard for the people interest and the State's welfare. Sincerely yours,

Jerrold L. Seawell.
